Introduction

After gaining independence, our country pays great attention to the study of foreign languages. The introduction of continuous teaching of foreign languages in the first grades of secondary schools by the decree of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan is a clear proof of this. Before learning and teaching foreign languages, let's try to find an alternative answer to this question.

Is learning a foreign language good for children?

Of course! It helps them to understand the culture of the world, its development and the ability to communicate with different people, as well as to develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills, as well as memory and concentration skills.

Language learning also depends on age. According to psychologists, children learn language faster and easier than adults. One of the main reasons for this is the natural tendency of children to learn languages, their strong imitation, and the fact that children speak more than adults.

Children of other foreign languages, especially English language should be simple, easy and intuitive ways to teach. In this regard, following some reason, we will study and research. It should get the attention that the 6-7 year-old children do not understand the meaning of information, but also to teach him mechanically. Therefore elementary class will start training this understanding of the grammar of the language. Otherwise, the language of children in the first days of up and said, which put the interest of my face.

Two teachers use for the direct method, which can modern form - common in many audiolingval and audiovisual techniques. Audiolingval the opinions of the founders of the method boarding foreign language, practical and educational purposes to teach.

Language foreign language including materials selection and education also plays an important role. In the meantime, the types of speech activities to learn to talk by listening to the following: - study - entry. Children can cause a lot of difficulties to teach a new language. But most of all the other children who speak the language they use, and of course be sure that they learn the fact that we are in this area of great help in achieving the obvious.

Teaching the English language to children by one of the following methods - a preview:

In Connection With the View of Teaching

This is a simple and convenient method of not only language taught in many areas, but this method's information to allow them to maintain good and long-term memory. For example, "book", the word "book" in the language of their children but they might not know the meaning of the concept of "book" at least in the minds of children and its approximate shape, color, and characteristics of the store. We now know that the "book" would mean eradicating the word "book" in advance, and the children and ask them to describe it shows a photo of ourselves. This text and image in their mind and they Then combine this information on the concepts faster and easier to remember.

Children Lifting the Mood, then by the Beginning of the Course

We will not look or feel excellent learning more things. How many jobs we have, it had to take so many things. A humorous and entertaining things in the classroom that are easy to find (it is certainly not gone away from the lesson). There are so many interesting educational resources to teach English language development, and through them we can we can for interesting ways to teach games and activities. For example, you can use role playing games. The students skills and the kind of confidence excellent way of development. Various role-playing game scenarios them by giving them their speaking dictionary interesting way you can train and develop. Role-playing games to watch it very useful for the students.

To Avoid Matching

Just a different way to teach children with boredom and loss of interest. In this regard, we are adjoining (worksheet), games, different art tools for efficient use. This is unsustainable, but we know a lot of time to create all of this will help shape the children learn language skills easily. Dictionary improvement in terms of the quality of his previous role in the development. In this light natural phenomena, objects, people, actions, animals, birds and flora should not forget easily and quickly learn their names.

Use of Songs and Musics

Songs and music can be one of the best ways to engage children in learning, and they can also be a great way to help them memorize information. It is no coincidence that the English alphabet is taught in schools in the form of songs, which allows you to memorize these letters quickly and for a long time. Songs can also increase children's vocabulary: children are more interested in memorizing the names of vegetables or fruits.

Using games

There are such great educational games that can make learning a language not even look like learning. There are many easy games to help develop language skills, and children will love them. Try to choose simple types of these games - if they are difficult to understand, children will not enjoy them, and learning through games will also make children feel bored. The fact that we often use games as minutes of rest helps us not to deviate from the intended purpose.

Benefits From Children`S Interests

Another way to get children interested in language teaching is to use topics that interest them. If they really like to read, choose a book in English together. If they love art, study some English artists, get acquainted with their works and use their own English dictionaries. Find something they love and apply it more, I'm sure these kids will like it.

Use Stories

Books are a great way to develop students' language skills. Stories allow children to use their imagination, depict places and people that do not actually exist, create adventure and interesting emotions. Thus, using it to teach a language can be very effective.

English Language Holidays

Using English holidays is an easy way to create a fun classroom environment. Conducting and encouraging fun small class activities on topics such as Christmas or Halloween will inspire children to love the language. It also allows children to develop creative abilities and learn about other cultures.

Effective Use of Oral and Written Instructions

If you are explaining a topic, do not explain it to students only orally or regularly on the board. Use both methods equally so that children become accustomed to both seeing and understanding what is written. This develops their pronunciation and spelling skills.

Conclusion

Teaching foreign languages to primary school students is a difficult and long-term activity, because first of all we need to pay attention to the individual characteristics of the child before teaching him something. In order to develop the child's self-confidence, self-esteem, love for science and learning, teachers and parents should be able to understand the child with all his body and be happy with his achievements. He must show that he is willing and able to sympathize with those who fail. In this regard, parents, especially teachers, should not spare their work, organize the lesson as interesting as possible, with the help of various visual aids and games. The teacher should not only be the organizer of the game - he should also play with children, because children play with adults with great pleasure. If we use the above methods and techniques wisely, we can create an interesting and productive classroom environment
