Abstract

Based on the principle of innovative development of our republic "From the strategy of actions to the strategy of development", the essence of the "New Uzbekistan strategy", the concept of new Uzbekistan, the priority directions of the development strategy and the analysis of prospective plans for their implementation will be explained.

Keywords: new Uzbekistan, state and society, human interest, its value, creation, Iron Notebook, Women's Notebook, Youth Notebook.

It should be said that the new Uzbekistan is a high stage on the way to further strengthening the independence of our country, a new era of freedom and liberty, creativity and prosperity. That is, the new Uzbekistan is "a modernized society that is changing, becoming full of power, recognized by the people of the world, and a free country facing the world."

Sh. Mirziyoev defined 7 priority directions of the new development strategy of Uzbekistan. In particular, the following were defined as the most important tasks to be implemented in it:

- "- establishment of a people-friendly state through the development of a free civil society, ensuring human dignity and his legitimate interests;
- justice and rule of law - building a populist state, ensuring human dignity;
- development of the national economy;
- fair social policy, development of human capital;
- implementation of reforms in spiritual and educational spheres;
- finding solutions to global problems at the national and regional levels;
- ensuring peace and security, development of international cooperation".

Also, "in order to ensure the integrity and continuity of reforms in the development strategy, the principle "From the strategy of actions to the strategy of development" was taken as the main idea and main criterion." In fact, while defining the priorities for the next five years, the head of the country emphasized that "rights and freedoms, legal interests of every citizen living in our country are the highest value". One of the important aspects is that in the development strategy of New Uzbekistan, the individual, human value is placed in the first place, and it organizes state and community management based on the new principle of "man - society - state". In a word, the practical result, human interest, his dignity became the main goal.

It is worth admitting that in the past 5 years, a number of systematic reforms have been implemented and positive results have been achieved in the development of the social sphere, but at the same time, there are still a number of problems and shortcomings that prevent the creation of effective mechanisms in this sphere. In the next 5 years, social reforms will be of particular importance in this regard.

If we look at the work carried out in the social sphere during the past years, a new mechanism of working with people in need of social protection and constant assistance such as "Iron Book", "Women's Book", "Youth Book" was introduced. The number of people receiving social benefits has increased almost 1.5 times.

Ensuring the health of our people has always been a priority. In 2017, the total funds allocated to the healthcare system from the budget amounted to 7.1 trillion soums. By 2020, this indicator reached 14.8 trillion soums. It is not an exaggeration to say that the president announced in his speech that it is planned to "double the amount of funds directed to this field, including the equivalent of raising the salary of top-class doctors to 1,000 dollars in the next five years."

In conclusion, it can be said that the entire nation is interested in the consistent continuation of the large-scale reform process and their fruitfulness. We hope that representatives of all state and public organizations, civil society institutions, and non-governmental non-profit organizations will participate in the implementation of the new Development Strategy of Uzbekistan.

We are confident that the new development strategy of Uzbekistan will initiate a new stage of our national development and become a moral basis and criterion that will unite our people towards common goals.
