

THE PLACE OF ENGLISH IN THE WORLD

Normatova Saboxat Mamatqobilovna

Student of Pedagogical Institution of Termez State University

+998994299516, gulnozaqurbanova@mail.ru

Annotation

There are more and more language learners around us, especially young people. Wherever you look, you will see English language courses, offers and announcements for training courses. Moreover, for a time in history, Latin was revered as the language of science and politics. In the meantime, French gained a similar status, and from the 17th century onwards, Britain established dominance over many countries in the world, and English began to become the language of trade across the seas. In the area where the well-known East and East India companies have entered, the population has become accustomed to the English way of life.

Key words: Teaching English, learning new methods, language of the world.

WHY IS ENGLISH A WORLD LANGUAGE?

1. English is the language of the world.

Today, English is the primary language of communication for more than 500 million people and is the second language for another 1.3 billion people.

2. English is the language of trade and business.

Ninety percent of all transactions worldwide are in English. World financial funds and exchanges operate in English. Large corporations use English in every corner of the globe. Although they do not speak English, it is much more convenient and simple for foreign investors to express proposals in that language.

3. English is the language of instruction

As a foreign language, English is mainly taught in schools. The top ten universities in the world also operate in English. Knowledge of English allows you to get a quality education and become a reputable professional.

4. English is the language of travel.

No matter what country in the world you go to, they will understand you in English everywhere. You can communicate with the locals exactly in English.

5. English is the language of science and technology.

Today, many scientific reports, articles and reports are published in English. 90% of Internet resources are in English. The bulk of the information in all areas will first appear in English.

6. English is the language of youth.

English comedies, films, books and works of art are very popular among the youth of the world. American actors, singers, writers, have taken root in the hearts of millions of young people.

7. English is a universal language

English is an attractive, pleasant and easy to learn language. The grammar of the English language is much simpler, the words are easily connected with each other, and short and clear sentences are formed. After all, an international language should not be complicated.

GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Linguistic relations have been formed between the two countries, which are still incomprehensible to society. Each country tries to innovate in this language by itself. Noah Webster, who is well known to the younger generation in America, offered to study the version he had invented. There was a time when speaking this language was forbidden. Such a law was passed in 1969 in the US state of Illinois. Their official language is recognized as American. At first glance, there seems to be no difference between them, but in fact there are 24 dialects of English. This poses unprecedented challenges for writers who are the authors of various works. For example, a book about the famous hero Harry Potter. It had to be translated from English into American English so that it could be read by the entire American population.

HISTORICAL HERITAGE OF ENGLISH

The history of the birth of the English language goes back to Germany with its roots. In the Middle Ages, Germanic tribes invaded British territory, which had once been conquered by the Romans, and a new incomprehensible language emerged during the conversation. Old English is different from today. For example, the translation of the word "bride" means "bride," and in the ancient language it meant "the process of preparing food". It is also known that until the 15th century, there were no punctuation marks in the language.

APRIL 23 IS INTERNATIONAL ENGLISH HOLIDAY

One of the main reasons why English is so important among Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish, the official working languages of the United Nations, which has an important place in the world community, is that it is a computer programming and Internet language.

It should be noted that this language is the official means of communication in 70 countries around the world. The fact that almost half of the world's literature is published in English, even in English, is the language of the great English writers William Shakespeare, Jonathan Swift, Walter Scott, Charles Dickens. It is a clear example of its important place in the world community. Today, April 23 is widely celebrated around the world as International English Day. This holiday will be celebrated for the first time in 2010 along with Arabic Day, Chinese Day, French Day and Spanish Day.

WHY APRIL 23 IS APPEARED TO CELEBRATE IT AS A HOLIDAY?

Because this day is the birthday of the great English playwright and poet William Shakespeare, author of such rare works as "Romeo and Juliet", "King Lear", "Othello", "Macbeth". can be recognized.

Today, in-depth study of English, knowledge of it is very important for every educated person, for students who want to become masters of any field.

It will be very difficult for anyone of international standing to thrive in this world without knowing this language. For better or worse, the truth is that we are overwhelmed by the power of the English language.

ENGLISH AS A GLOBAL WORLD LANGUAGE

When we talk about globalization, the English language comes to mind first. The term globalization refers to the transnational transformation of ideas, languages, cultures, people and economies. It is believed that globalization can contribute to economic growth in different countries. In addition to pragmatic approaches to language and globalization itself, communication is now a tool for major international and transnational organizations. English and Globalization spread all over the world and strengthened the global language. This process began with the domination of two English-speaking English and American empires and continues today with a new virtual empire of the internet. Although Chinese and other languages are rapidly increasing their share of internet traffic, English is a common language that can be preserved.

Used Literature:

1. Qurbanova Gulnoza Abdukhalik qizi. № 17 (255) / 2019 The notions of “knowledge”, “action” and “learning” p217 Молодой ученый Международный научный журнал
2. Qurbanova Gulnoza Abduholiqovna. (2021). EPISTEMOLOGICAL APPROACHES AND THE PSYCHOLOGY OF KNOWLEDGE. Emergent: Journal of Educational Discoveries and Lifelong Learning (EJEDL), 2(04), 50–53. Retrieved from <https://ejedl.academiascience.org/index.php/ejedl/article/view/23>
3. Qurbanova Gulnoza Abduholiqovna. (2021). DEVELOPMENT OF THE CONCEPT “KNOWLEDGE” IN ENGLISH. Academicia Globe: Inderscience Research, 2(04), 91–94. Retrieved from <https://agir.academiascience.org/index.php/agir/article/view/59>
4. Qurbanova Gulnoza Abduholiqovna, & Toshtemirova Dinora Qurbanazarovna. (2021). DIFFICULTIES OF LEARNING ENGLISH. JournalNX - A Multidisciplinary Peer Reviewed Journal, 7(10), 128–131. <https://doi.org/10.17605/OSF.IO/HQX67>

